Aaron Hardie is a professional cricket player with numerous accolades across several levels. Nationally his accomplishments include representing the Perth Scorchers in the BBL and multiple 1st class games for Western Australia. Internationally, Hardie has previously been selected to play for Australia against South Africa in the T20I and ODI's. As well as competing against India in a four-day match for Cricket Australia's XI team.

Some of Hardie's notable achievements include scoring '174' not out, in the final game of Sheffield Shield season, contributing to the West Australian team's championship victory. During the previously mentioned four-day match against India, Hardie took the wicket of India's captain, finishing the first innings with four wickets for fifty runs. In this same game Aaron went on to score 86 runs while batting and describes the experiences as 'a bit surreal.' A fitting statement that displays Aaron's hard-working, humble attitude.

These successes in Australia understandably drew an international audience. In 2022 Aaron signed with Surrey to play in their T20 Blast and County Championship in England.

While Aaron now plays around the world, we still remember him from his SSWA days. Aaron was a key member of the SSWA cricket team in 2013 and 2014. In the latter, he earned the role of captain and was selected as an All Australian.

Leah Parry is an Olympic and national Softball second baser, representing SSWA in 1995, 96 and 97. A long and fruitful career awaited Parry after her time at SSWA. In 2003 she was a part of the Western Australian team that claimed it's first Gilley Shield since 1959. Parry and this same team went on to win that shield again in 2011 and 2013.

Unfortunately Leah was one of the last players cut for 'Spirits' Beijing 2008 squad, the last year softball was to be included in the Olympics. This didn't dampen Parry's fire as shortly after she was selected for the 2010 World Championships. But after already a long career and the arrival of a second child, Parry decided to retire. Seemingly her dreams of playing for Australia were over.

As the Tokyo 2020 Olympics approached, it was revealed that Softball would be one of the sports making its Olympic return. Just like the sport, Parry made a comeback. At that years nationals her undeniable skills as a second baser and impressive batting average of 0.380 secured her place on the 2020 Olympic team. Finally, Parry was able to realise her lifelong dream and represent Australia at an Olympic level. While the team didn't win any medals, Parry's long road to the Olympics is something we here at SSWA will always admire and respect.

Netball

Sophie Garbin is a professional Netball player for the Melbourne Vixens and a member of the international Australian Diamonds. She represented SSWA with the Netball 15s in 2012. Playing as GS or GA she is a relentless attacking force, impressively surpassing the previous ANL record of 468 goals by round six of the 2017 competition. Garbin's firepower propelled her team to a championship that year and she ended the season with 607 goals and the 2017 ANL MVP award.

Nationally she has been a championship winner on 3 occasions. Twice with the New South Wales Swifts in 2019 and 2021 and once with the Western Sting in 2017. Individually, Garbin claimed the aforementioned MVP league award and the NSW Swifts player of the year award in 2019 and 2020.

Internationally, Garbin had to work a little harder to gain the recognition she deserved. From 2014 to 2017 she represented Australia in the under-17, under-19, under-20 and under-21 squads. Securing a bronze medal with Australia at the 2018 Fast5 Netball World Series she was selected in the Australian Development squad in 2019. Finally, Garbin made her senior debut for Australia in 2021, picking up a silver medal at the Constellation Cup. But Silver wasn't enough for this decorated attacker. At the 2023 iteration of the cup, Australia walked home with the gold, more silverware to hang in Garbin's already full trophy case.

Sunday Aryang

Netball

Sunday Aryang is a professional Netball defender for the West Coast Fever and the Australian Diamonds. At the age of only 18, Sunday starred in her debut season for the Fever and has shown no sign of slowing down since. In 2022 she was honoured with a spot in the Australian Diamonds international netball team, notably being the first African born Australian to play international netball.

Aryang is known for her elite athleticism and stamina, pair this with her undeniable netball nous and you've got yourself one mean defender. Thanks to these superb skills Aryang can easily move between both the goal defence and wing defence positions, locking down two thirds of the floor.

Sunday played with SSWA's Netball 15s team in 2015 where she was recognised for her prowess and selected as an All Australian. As someone who didn't initially have the opportunity to play professional sport, Sunday sure has achieved a lot. Being a part of the West Coast Fever squad since 2019 and winning Gold at both the Commonwealth games in 2022 and at the International Netball World Cup in 2023. We'll continue to watch Sunday as she expertly deflects, intercepts and rebounds her way into the future.

Emma O'Driscoll

Netball

Emma O'Driscoll is a professional Australian Rules Footballer playing for the Fremantle Dockers in the AFL Women's (AFLW). She was drafted by the Dockers in 2019 and went on to make her debut in 2020.

Having previously been a netballer, Emma made the switch in her final year of school, playing football, for fun, in a week-long country carnival. From her performance, she was invited to trial and then made the State 18's team in 2017. She then joined the Swan Districts on the WAFLW and in 2018, was selected into her third state team.

Emma was named in the 22under22 team in 2021 and 2022. In 2023, following an outstanding season, she was named at centre half-back of the AFLW All-Australian team, was the league leader in intercept possessions, and finished runner-up in Fremantle's Best and Fairest Award.

In 2024, Emma played her 50th game and was again named in the AFLW's All Australian team of the year. She is described as being one of the best interceptors and readers of the game in the AFLW competition.

Emma represented SSWA in the 2012 12's Netball and the 2015 15's Netball team.
